We had an overflow turnout for our popular "Get Acquainted" Tournament. The weather was accommodating, in fact down right pleasant for our February tournament. Other than the usual few fairways that held the previous days' rain, the course was very playable, wasn't it? The scramble format is always fun plus this venue allows us to play with fellow members that we might not normally have the opportunity of pairing up with. The feeling around the "watering hole" after the rounds seemed like mine.....this was a blast, let's do it again! Good job, Mark. With your T/C emeritus at your side, you choreographed an eventful and enjoyable tournament. You are setting a standard worthy of your predecessor and are an asset to your club. Keep up the good work, we're in total support of you.

Recently we've had a rash of members go on "IR" (Injured Reserve). So it is good to see Dave Freais playing regularly again (are you really sure that was your gross score and NOT your teams' net?!). Joe Esposito couldn't play, having popped a varicose vein chasing the women at his local gym, yet he made a guest appearance (with his usual pomp and circumstance!). And speaking of making an appearance; Jim Derdevanis shuffled in on the arm of his significant other, Sue, to hang out with the gang for awhile. It was good to see all of you, but don't be doing what you're NOT supposed to do.....we all want you back on the course ASAP---we ALL need the money! I've had a vision. Don't worry, I didn't hurt myself. I'm suggesting a new column for our members' interest to include in each newsletter. Something in the vein of "Member of the Month/Meet your Fellow Member". I'm calling on fellow members to provide us with insightful or humorous info you'd like to share with others. Nominate a fellow member, or tell us something about yourself that you might like to share, personal or professional. If not, we can always make something up!

Also, as a reminder, those members who would like to advertise in their monthly newsletter, contact Bob Fabel, your Treasurer, for details. Enjoy this month. May the skies be blue, the beer green (St. Patrick's Day is Mar. 17), the fairways dry and the golf gods benevolent. And don't forget....Friends don't let friends drive a golf cart who've lost more than 3 balls on any given hole!

Don't forget, this month's tournament will be held on March 24....It's MY tournament.....The President's Tournament. So make your Prez proud with an enthusiastic turnout.

See you on the course!....and HAPPY EASTER!

TC'S C bbbolumn -

The "Get Acquainted Tournament" turned out really well. We had 52 players and a couple of no shows. This means I need to warn you now - I will be continuing the tradition of the "PEN" I won't enjoy penning you, but I need to start now. You must sign up for the next tournament 10 DAYS IN ADVANCE WITH A CHECK. If I don't have your money in 10 days prior, you wont "PLAY." You know what they say....money talks and bullshit stays home on Sundays.

The next tournament is the "Presidents Tournament" on March 24th -- straight golf (NORCal Zone Qualifying). I will be collecting $10 for those of you who wish to compete. We will also be starting the "Match Play Tournament" in this months tournament. I need about 32 players and I have 12 right now. I will collect a one time $20 entry fee from the players who are signing up, then "Seed" them by handicap. You will have to play in all five of the "Match Play Tournaments" if you win or you will forfeit the match. If you lose a match you are out. Weather permitting the schedule is as follows:

- March 24th "President's" (32 Start)
- April 28th "TC's Surprise" (16 Continue)
- June 23rd "Directors" (8 Continue)
- Sept. 7th "Club Championship" (4 Continue)

Sept. 8th "Club Championship" Last 2

The projected payout (No Men's Club fees will be involved)

- 1st $300
- 2nd $180
- 3rd $100
- 4th $60

I need to mention that we will be taking one low gross and one low net winner from this month's tournament for the "Skins Game." Also, green fees for the golf course will be increasing $2, so April's Tournament fee is $45
